And now .... about the writer and stage director of

Holding Out For a Hero.

Kay Bilodeau joined Sweet Adelines in 2001. She began singing in Profile's 2000 Holiday Chorus as a bass but within two weeks, she had switched to baritone and has remained there ever since.

She began writing scripts a number of years ago. The first one was written with Terry N. and was titled "The Four Seasons". Her success as a script writer took off from there.

Writing a script is not always easy. "Each script is different. Some practically write themselves after an idea pops in my head. Others, I'll have an idea but the script itself just doesn't write fast", states Kay. Speaking of how the script for Holding Out For a Hero came about, Kay said, "I'd been looking to put some characters from Janet Evanovich's Stephanie Plum books in a show and I thought what better place than have them at a Comic-Con, since I like superheroes and superheroes are big at the moment."

In addition to writing scripts, Kay is a talented barbershop music arranger. In our show, the song Thriller, is an arrangement that Kay did several years ago. She is the Associate Director for the chorus, Baritone Section Leader, Membership Chairperson, a member of the Management Team and the baritone of Musicality Quartet. Next fall, she will be joining several other Profile ladies on the risers at the International Competition in New Orleans with Harmony On the Sound Chorus.

Profile is fortunate to have Kay in our singing family!

Chorus Chatter

♪ Nancy Boudreau joined Profile in October of 2005 and she is now about to begin a new adventure with her hubby, Doe, in Maine! Though she will enjoy living much closer to her family there, her Chorus sisters here will miss her dearly. Nancy began as a Lead singer but in 2013, when we were in need of more basses, she volunteered to give it a try and liked it so much, she kept right on singin' bass! Nancy served as Performance Coordinator for the Chorus for many years and always offered to serve on other committees when there was a need. She's been our showmanship "queen", always making her performance an entertaining one! She will be with us in our show on the 17th. After the show, we'll look forward to hearing about her next adventures via FB and emails! We love you, Nancy! ❤️

UNTIL WE MEET AGAIN, MAY GOD BLESS YOU
AS HE HAS BLESSED ME.
